Life-Changing Events

Re: One of a Kind/Dad Knows Best

May 2009

For those who have not taken the opportunity to hear Darren Weeks, you are missing out. I have been to three different events covering different areas and all have been very beneficial, as have the contacts I have made.

Never think that you can't – you will be surprised by what can become available to you, but you have to act and get involved. Even if you are not in the position to act, the education will open your eyes.

I started with Rich Dad, Poor Dad, then attended Fight Aids Save Taxes followed by the Fast Track to Paradise. Although they each came with a great free dinner, the food couldn't come close to the information presented! When these opportunities come to your area, go to them. It costs you nothing and you will not regret it! Take them all in, no matter what financial situation you are in and learn.

I want again to thank all those involved. You are changing lives!

What a Crime

Re: Out Front/Preventing Office Crime

May 2009

This article seems ill-timed considering how difficult times are for hard-working people who have been forced into the food and unemployment lines by lying, cheating, greed-driven executives. An economy hit by a tsunami and a century of debt for our children – I would say that is the epitome of "office crimes." Background checks for employees who have access to Post-it notes and petty cash? Gimme a break. Perhaps if CEOs were more cognizant of what a "living wage" means there would be fewer fraudsters. Workers get fired for taking petty cash so they can eat. CEOs get a bailout and a bonus.
